STATOTHR

You may recall that you telephoned me last Spring about a young man named [REDACTED] whose father was a classmate of the General's.

STATOTHR

We had some trouble getting in touch with him, but you were able to give us some telephone numbers in September and he has now been interviewed by a member of our recruiting staff. They think well of him and we would like very much to have him, but he apparently is making a substantial income in the real estate business whereas his qualifications do not justify the minimum salary he would require to take a Government job. We are sorry it didn't work out and hope that later he will think of us again.

In any case thank you for the reference and we are always glad to have suggestions such as this.

Very truly yours,

LAWRENCE R. HOUSTON
